CERTAIN UNITED STATES TAX MATTERS

THE DISCUSSION HEREIN IS FOR INFORMATIONAL PURPOSES ONLY AND IS A DISCUSSION PRIMARILY OF THE US TAX CONSEQUENCES TO PROSPECTIVE SHAREHOLDERS WHO ARE US TAXABLE INVESTORS. EACH PROSPECTIVE SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CONSULT HIS PROFESSIONAL TAX ADVISOR WITH RESPECT TO THE TAX ASPECTS OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND. TAX CONSEQUENCES MAY VARY DEPENDING UPON THE PARTICULAR STATUS OF A PROSPECTIVE SHAREHOLDER. IN ADDITION, SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS (NOT DISCUSSED HEREIN) MAY APPLY TO PERSONS WHO ARE NOT DIRECT SHAREHOLDERS IN THE FUND BUT WHO ARE DEEMED TO OWN SHARES AS A RESULT OF THE APPLICATION OF CERTAIN ATTRIBUTION RULES.

Taxation of the Fund

The Fund intends to treat each as a separate entity for U.S. Federal income tax purposes. However, since the law is unclear as to whether an umbrella Irish collective asset-management Vehicle with segregated liability between sub-funds should be treated as a single entity or multiple entities for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, there can be no assurance that the IRS will accept the Fund's tax treatment of the Sub-Funds as separate entities.

It is expected that the Sub-Fund will be treated as a corporation for U.S. Federal income tax purposes.

Section 864(b)(2) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") provides a safe harbour (the "Safe Harbour") pursuant to which a foreign corporation that engages in the United States in trading securities for its own account will not be deemed to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business. If the Sub-Fund conducts its activities in a manner so as to meet the requirements of the Safe Harbour, the Sub-Fund's securities trading activities should not constitute a U.S. trade or business, and the Sub-Fund generally should not be subject to the regular U.S. Federal income tax on its trading profits. However, if the Sub-Fund's engages in activities that are outside the scope of the Safe Harbour, the Sub-Fund may be considered to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business, in which case the Sub-Fund would be subject to U.S. Federal income tax and branch profits tax on some or all of its income and profits. Assuming that the Sub-Fund qualifies for the Safe Harbour, the Sub-Funds will not be subject to any U.S. Federal income tax on its capital gains from the sale of securities to the extent that such securities are not classified as "United States real property interests" within the meaning of Code Section 897. The Sub-Fund will be subject to U.S. Federal income tax on any gain realized from the sale of a "United States real property interest", which term generally includes, among other things, stock of a "United States real property holding corporation".

Assuming that the Sub-Fund qualifies for the Safe Harbour, the only U.S. Federal income taxes which will be payable by the Sub-Fund on its income from dividends and interest is the 30% withholding tax applicable to dividends (including dividend equivalents) and certain interest income considered to be from sources within the United States. This tax will apply even if the Sub-Fund complies with its obligations under the Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act (the "HIRE Act") (as discussed below).

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA") provisions of the HIRE Act provide that the Sub-Fund must disclose the name, address and taxpayer identification number of certain U.S. persons that own, directly or indirectly, any interest in that Sub-Fund, as well as certain other information relating to any such interest, pursuant to the terms of the intergovernmental agreement between the United States and Ireland and implementing legislation and regulations adopted by Ireland. If the Sub-Fund fails to comply with these requirements, then a 30% withholding tax will be imposed on payments to the Sub-Fund of U.S. source income (including dividends and interest). Although the Sub-Fund will attempt to satisfy any obligations imposed on it to avoid the imposition of this withholding tax, no assurance can be given that the Sub-Fund will be able to satisfy these obligations. In this regard, the Sub-Fund may require Shareholders to provide any documentation or other information regarding the Shareholder and its beneficial owners that the Sub-Fund determines is necessary or desirable in order for the Sub-Funds to avoid the withholding tax and otherwise comply with the HIRE Act. If the Sub-Fund becomes subject to a withholding tax as a result of the HIRE Act, the value of Shares held by all Shareholders may be materially affected, although the Sub-Fund generally expects to charge the amounts to the relevant Shareholders, as applicable.

Taxation of US Taxable Investors

Persons generally subject to U.S. Federal income taxation on worldwide income ("US Taxable Investors") should be aware of certain tax consequences of investing directly or indirectly in the Sub-Fund. It is expected that the Sub-Fund will be a "passive foreign investment company" ("PFIC") as defined in Code Section 1297.

A US Taxable Investor that owns Shares is subject to different rules depending on whether the US Taxable Investor makes an election to treat the Sub-Fund as a “qualified electing fund” (a “QEF election”) for the first taxable year that the US Taxable Investor holds Shares (a “timely QEF election”). If a US Taxable Investor makes a timely “qualifying electing fund” (“QEF”) election, the US Taxable Investor must report each year for US Federal income tax purposes his pro rata share of the Sub-Fund’s ordinary earnings and net capital gain, if any, for the year, but certain tax penalty provisions applicable to a non-electing investor will not apply. If a US Taxable Investor does not make a timely QEF election, certain tax penalties may be applicable. These alternative sets of tax rules are discussed in more detail below; however, US Taxable Investors should consult their own tax advisors regarding whether to make a QEF election.

A US Taxable Investor who makes a timely QEF election (an “Electing Investor”) must report for US Federal income tax purposes his pro rata share of the ordinary earnings and the net capital gain, if any, of the Sub-Funds for the taxable year of the Sub-Fund that ends with or within the taxable year of the Electing Investor. The “net capital gain” of the Sub-Fund is the excess, if any, of the Sub-Fund’s net long-term capital gains over its net short-term capital losses and is reported by the Electing Investor as long-term capital gain. Any net operating losses or net capital losses of that Sub-Fund will not pass through to the Electing Investor and will not offset any ordinary earnings or net capital gain of that Sub-Fund reportable to Electing Investors in subsequent years (although such losses would ultimately reduce the gain, or increase the loss, recognized by the Electing Investor on his disposition of his Shares).

A US Taxable Investor makes a QEF election for a taxable year by completing and filing Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) Form 8621 with its tax return for the year of such election in accordance with the instructions thereto. Upon request, the Fund will use reasonable efforts to furnish US Taxable Investors with information needed in order to complete IRS Form 8621.

A US Taxable Investor who does not make a timely QEF election (a “Non-Electing Investor”) will be subject to special rules with respect to (i) any “excess distribution” (generally, the portion of any distributions received by the Non-Electing Investor on the Shares in a taxable year in excess of 125% of the average annual distributions received by the Non-Electing Investor in the three preceding taxable years, or, if shorter, the Non-Electing Investor’s holding period for his Shares), and (ii) any gain realized on the sale or other disposition of such Shares. Under these rules, (i) the excess distribution or gain would be allocated ratably over the Non-Electing Investor’s holding period for the Shares; (ii) the amount allocated to the current taxable year would be taxed as ordinary income; and (iii) the amount allocated to each of the other taxable years would be subject to tax at the highest rate of tax in effect for the applicable class of taxpayer for that year, and an interest charge for the deemed deferral benefit would be imposed with respect to the resulting tax attributable to each such other taxable year. If a Non-Electing Investor who is an individual dies while owning Shares, the Non-Electing Investor’s successor would be ineligible to receive a step-up in tax basis of the Shares.

The Sub-Fund may invest in companies that are PFICs. US Taxable Investors will be subject to the PFIC rules with respect to their indirect ownership interests in such PFICs. There can be no assurance that a US Taxable Investor will be able to make a QEF election with respect to PFICs in which the Sub-Fund invests.

Special rules would apply if the Sub-Fund were considered to be a “controlled foreign corporation” (a “CFC”) as defined in Code Section 957. A foreign corporation is considered to be a CFC if, on any day during its taxable year, more than 50% of the total voting power or the total value of the stock is owned, directly or indirectly, by “United States shareholders”. A “United States shareholder” is a United States person who owns, directly or indirectly, 10% or more of the total voting power or value of the stock of the foreign corporation. If the Sub-Fund were classified as a CFC, each US Taxable Investor who owned, directly or indirectly, 10% or more of the Shares of the Sub-Fund would be required to include in his gross income, for his taxable year in which the taxable year of that Sub-Fund ends, his pro rata share of the Sub-Fund’s income for such year. This income would be reported by the US Taxable Investor as ordinary income even to the extent that it is attributable to long-term capital gains of the Sub-Fund. With respect to a US Taxable Investor’s direct interest in the Sub-Fund (as opposed to the US Taxable Investor’s indirect interests in other PFICs in which the Sub-Fund may invest), the PFIC rules will not apply to any portion of a US Taxable Investor’s holding period during which the investor is a “United States shareholder” and the Sub-Fund is a CFC. If the Sub-Fund determines that it is a CFC for any taxable year, the Sub-Fund will make reasonable efforts to inform US Taxable Investors of such CFC status. The CFC rules are complex, and a complete discuss of such rules is beyond the scope of this section. US Taxable Investors should consult their own tax advisors regarding the consequences of investing in a CFC, including the potential application of Code Section 1248 to any disposition (including in redemption) of Shares.

Reporting Requirements

Any US person within the meaning of the Code owning 10% or more (taking certain attribution rules into account) of either the total combined voting power or total value of all classes of the shares of a non-US corporation such as the Sub-Fund will likely be required to file an information return with the IRS containing certain disclosure concerning the filing shareholder, other shareholders and the corporation. The Sub-Funds have not committed to provide all of the information about the Sub-Funds or their Shareholders needed to complete the return. In addition, a US person within the meaning of the Code that transfers cash to a non-US corporation may be required to report the transfer to the IRS if (i) immediately after the transfer, such person holds (directly, indirectly or by attribution) at least 10% of the total voting power or total value of such corporation or (ii) the amount of cash transferred by such person (or any related person) to such corporation during the twelve-month period ending on the date of the transfer exceeds US$100,000. Further, Shareholders may be required to file an information return with respect to an investment in the Sub-Fund pursuant to Code Section 6038D or Code Section 1298(f). Shareholders should consult their own tax advisers with respect to these and any other applicable filing requirements.

The IRS has released final Treasury Regulations expanding previously existing information reporting, record maintenance and investor list maintenance requirements with respect to certain “tax shelter” transactions (the “Tax Shelter Regulations”). The Tax Shelter Regulations may potentially apply to a broad range of investments that would not typically be viewed as tax shelter transactions, including investments in investment companies and portfolio investments of investment companies. Under the Tax Shelter Regulations, if the Sub-Fund engages in a “reportable transaction,” a Shareholder would be required, under certain circumstances, to (i) retain all records material to such “reportable transaction”; (ii) complete and file IRS Form 8886, “Reportable Transaction Disclosure Statement” as part of its US Federal income tax return for each year it participates in the “reportable transaction”; and (iii) send a copy of such form to the IRS Office of Tax Shelter Analysis at the time the first such tax return is filed. The scope of the Tax Shelter Regulations may be affected by further IRS guidance. Non-compliance with the Tax Shelter Regulations may involve significant penalties and other consequences. Each Shareholder should consult its own tax advisers as to its obligations under the Tax Shelter Regulations.

Non-Confidentiality

An investor (and each employee, representative, or other agent of the investor) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Sub-Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment and tax structure.

Future Changes in Applicable Law

The foregoing description of US income tax consequences of an investment in and the operations of the Fund is based on laws and regulations which are subject to change through legislative, judicial or administrative action. Other legislation could be enacted that would subject the Fund or shareholders to increased income taxes.

Other Taxes

Prospective shareholders should consult their own counsel regarding tax laws and regulations of any other jurisdiction which may be applicable to them.
